

On-line Curriculum for Medical Students

We have started in conjunction with several medical schools in America, a dedicated online curriculum development program. Distinguished professors in America are recording the Audio-Video lectures and these shall be launched via our website. Residents can take notes and also post their questions to professors and these shall be answered within a specific time. Separate registration is required between TelemedEdu, Inc., USA and the medical institution.