Technology:

This web-based solution is developed using C#, open source Dicom, Zoom for video integration. The patient launches the iOS/Android app and requests an appointment with a specialist and within the available schedules. Patient is required to be seen by a doctor before this visit and upload all the available diagnosis, reports in the app. The app also lets the patient and doctor communicate offline via messages before the appointment to make sure all the necessary information is available. When it's scheduled time the patient and doctor have a conversation and wrap the appointment.
